

CONGER GETS CASE DELAYED

The Cobb Resolution to Investigate Him

IS HELD UP FOR AWHILE

Expect That He Will Resign—By Doing So Before April 1, He Could Seek Vindication by Re-election.

Albany, N. Y., March 31.—The Senate Judiciary committee yesterday decided to give Senator Conger an opportunity to be heard on the Cobb resolution, providing for the appointment of a committee to formulate charges against him next Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

This action was taken after Senator Davis, chairman of the committee, had received a letter from Conger asking for the delay.

In the letter Conger said he expected to go to New York to consult his counsel.

Conger has declared his determination not to resign, now that measures have been taken looking to his expulsion from the Senate; but there is a belief that he may yet decide to give up his senatorial place and thus make it unnecessary for the Senate to act. Should Conger decide to resign by today, a special election can be called in his district, and he could seek vindication at the hands of his constituents, should he so desire, by becoming a candidate for re-election. If he delays until April 1, the governor will have no authority to call a special election, and in the event of his expulsion the district would have no representative during the remainder of the present session.

Senator Newcomb of New York declared yesterday that Conger ought not to be expelled from the Senate. "To punish him, in view of his disclosures, which have resulted in inestimable benefit to the state," he said, "would be unwise from the point of view of public policy. This principle is fully recognized in provisions of the state constitution and the penal law relating to persons disclosing bribery."

"Further investigation of legislative corruption must be had. To serve notice by expelling Conger that any one making disclosures would instantly be delivered into hostile hands to be destroyed, would close the mouths of necessary witnesses and defeat the ends of justice."

Several big wooden boxes were strewn about the floor of the temporary residence of the senator yesterday, into which Alida's belongings were being hurriedly packed, preparatory to their shipment to Norwich.

In the course of a long and fervid prayer by the Rev. A. F. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist church at East Greenbush, in opening the assembly proceedings yesterday, the minister pleaded that "whenever there is a man in public life who has done wrong, we pray thee to pull that man down from his stolen throne."

Governor Hughes yesterday called a special election for April 28 in the thirty-seventh district, comprising the counties of Madison, Chenango and Otsego, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator John P. Alida. Two years ago, when Senator Alida was re-elected, Assemblyman Stephen C. Clark of Otsego was a candidate, and it was said yesterday that Mr. Clark will again endeavor to secure the Republican nomination. Madison county may submit the name of ex-Assemblyman Robert J. Fish, while Nelson P. Boney of Norwich, who was one of Senator Conger's counsel during the bribery investigation, has been put forth as Chenango county's candidate.

Ulster, N. Y., March 31.—Henry R. Pollett, law partner of former Senator J. P. Alida, reached his home in Norwich yesterday morning and gave out what he said was an authoritative statement that Mr. Alida would bring suits for libel against Senator Conger and some of the newspapers of the state.

MANY DIE IN WRECK.

Fifty Killed or Injured in German Railroad Smash.

Mulheim-am-Rhine, March 31.—A train full of passengers was wrecked yesterday afternoon. About fifty persons, mostly soldiers, were killed or severely injured. Details of the accident are lacking.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depending upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is not realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

UP GOES THE PRICE OF BOSTON BEANS

Come Higher Than Jack's Beanstalk, but Faithful Boston Buys Them Still.

Boston, March 31.—Every small American boy, except Boston boys who read Herbert Spencer, Sophocles and "Paradise Lost," has read the story of Jack and the beanstalk. The beanstalk rose and rose, got higher and higher and higher, until Jack scaled the walls of the wicked giant's castle, and, after stealing his most valuable possessions, played David to his Goliath.

That is a fairy story, of course. But this isn't. The sad truth of this story throughs Boston common in gloom and brings call tears to the eyes of the Beanstalk.

The price of beans has risen and risen and risen, got higher and higher and higher in two years faster than did Jack's beanstalk.

In those brief twenty-four months, the price of beans has increased $3 1-3 per cent. That is, a man or a woman pays the same price for two beans now that he or she used to pay for three.

Yet Boston, ever faithful to the modest beanstalk, empties her pocket to fill herself with beans. Two years ago beans retailed at seven to eight cents a quart; they cost ten to eleven cents now. Yet the consumption of beans in Boston has fallen off only 9 per cent, appreciably.

Beans come high, but Boston must have them. Bean-loving statisticians state that Boston's bean bill in 1909 was nearly $7,000,000, an increase of about $1,700,000 over the cost of beans in the previous year, notwithstanding the decrease in the amount consumed. In 1908 Boston got away with $66,910 bushels of beans. Last year this amount fell off to 539,843 bushels, a decrease of about 1,000,000 bushels.

But that's not all. Salt pork, which must be cooked with baked beans, sold for 11 cents a pound in 1907. This year the same quality of pork costs 15 cents a pound, an increase of 63 per cent.

Grief is mixed with anger. A revolution against the increased cost of the only real food staples in Boston, in all New England, the cradle and nursery of liberty, the hotbed of the bean.

THREATENING BRUSH FIRES.

Spring Drought Has Provided Best of Food for Flames.

Boston, March 31.—Forest and brushwood fires are rapidly becoming the predominant feature of the southern New England landscape. Since the snow disappeared, six weeks ago, there has been very little rain and fallen leaves catch fire easily and spread the flames rapidly.

Again the custom of burning dead grass to clear the pasture land for hay-making has resulted in many fires, shaking off control and attacking the woodlands. From Blue Hill Tuesday, half a dozen fires could be seen, with the smoke streaming up from the woods to the east, south and west, while there were many smaller fires in southern and western Rhode Island and eastern Connecticut. The drought is said to be already menacing farming operations in these districts.

LOST LIFE IN FIRE.

Alfred Payne Stopped to Put on Shoes. Body Found by Firemen.

New York, March 31.—Alfred Payne, a clerk, lost his life in an early morning tenement fire late yesterday, because he stopped to put on his shoes after he had been awakened by the cries of tenants below. Firemen found his dead body seated upright on the edge of the bed. He had been pulling on his shoes when smoke and flames swept in through the air shaft and suffocated him.

Eight other tenants were injured in the course of the fire, which did only $500 damage.

WAGES AND RATES HIGHER

Double Action by New Haven Railroad.

PUBLIC TO PAY INCREASE

The Boston-New York Fare Has Been Raised Slightly—No Signs of Peace in Coal Fields; Miners Give Ultimatum.

New Haven, Conn., March 31.—The fact that the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company has filed schedules of proposed increases in passenger fares over its system, as reported from Washington, was confirmed here yesterday.

It is stated, however, that the company has not departed from its policy of a two cents a mile rate, but has sought to equalize rates on some of the subordinate lines, leaving the present rate on the main line practically unchanged.

The fare between Boston and New York, it is understood, will be $4.75, whereas at present it is $4.65.

The increase will mostly affect the branch lines, where the volume of travel has not been sufficient after a long period of experiment to meet the expense of operation of these branches.

The advances are said to be due to a wage increase granted the company's employees.

According to the Washington announcement, the new rates will become effective May 1. The increases in fare range from two to five per cent, but from an examination of the tariffs filed with the commission, it appears that only those fares which now average more than one dollar have been increased.

The fares for the short hauls, which average from 20 to 30 miles, have not been altered.

These are some examples of the increases:

Boston to New London increased from $15 to $22; New Haven to New London increased from $13 to $18; Worcester to New London, increased from $21.5 to $22.25; Boston to Williamstown, increased from $17.75 to $18.

The new tariffs were received and filed in Washington yesterday. They cancel and supersede the local tariffs, which have been effective since May 30, 1907. The new rates cover the road's lines from Boston to New Haven, Williamstown, Ct., and Poughkeepsie, New Haven, Providence, R. I., Worcester, Mass., and New London, Ct.

B. & M. Grants Increase.

Concord, N. H., March 31.—An increase in wages has been voluntarily accorded by the Boston and Maine railroad to the motormen and conductors on the Concord and Manchester electric branch of the Concord division. The new schedule will become effective beginning this week, and will be based in general on a ten-hour day. The new wage rate is twenty cents an hour for the first year of service, and is to be gradually increased to a maximum of twenty-four cents for the sixth year and thereafter.

MORE PAY FOR 100,000 MEN.

Pennsylvania Railroad Announces General Increase of 6 Per Cent.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 31.—An increase of six per cent in the wages of every employee on the Pennsylvania railroad system whose salary does not exceed $300 a month will become effective on the first of the month. This announcement was made here by the division superintendent. Over one hundred thousand men are affected.

The increase, which will cost the company $6,000,000 annually, also applies to employees on the Pennsylvania's lines west of Pittsburgh, who receive less than $300 a month.

ART JURY DISAGREES.

Fails to Reach a Verdict in "Fake" Picture Case.

New York, March 31.—After deliberating for fifteen hours, the jury in the case of William T. Evans, art collector and chairman of the art committee of the Lotus club, against William Clausen, dealer in paintings, yesterday reported a disagreement and were discharged. It was said that the jurors had stood nine to three in Clausen's favor, or on many ballots, and that two of the jurors, who favored Evans, were willing to go over to Clausen's side. If the other jurors would also go over, the suit was over the charge that Clausen sold Evans two alleged bogus Homer Martinis.

G. A. R. PROTESTS ON LEE.

Washington, March 31.—Protests by forty G. A. R. posts against the acceptance by Congress of the statue of Robert E. Lee, for a place in Statuary Hall, were presented to the Senate yesterday by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts.

MANY PRESIDENTS ASK.

Insurance Co. Heads Wanted to Testify by Secretary Hotchkiss.

New York, March 31.—In connection with the fire insurance investigation, Superintendent Hotchkiss gave out last night the percentage and birth of the American Bond & Mortgage Guarantee company, which later became the International Banking & Trust company, on 100 shares of which (par value $15,000) William H. Buckley was able to borrow $15,000 from the Phenix insurance company (fire) of Brooklyn.

The parent company, the American Bond & Mortgage company, was promoted by Stewart Browne, a private banker of New York City, and was incorporated in 1899 by five persons, of whom little is known, save that one of them was a clerk in the office of Edward McCall, brother of the late president of the New York Life insurance company and now a justice of the supreme court. They were Elniel O. Hoole, Daniel E. Lynde, John Farrell, William S. Waddy and John McCraken.

This charter conferred on the company power to do almost anything from running a pawn shop to establishing a storage warehouse.

Superintendent Hotchkiss last night said that he had requested the presidents of forty old American insurance companies and the American managers of foreign companies to produce all their records that would show in any way what sums they have paid to legislative agents and to what agents these sums went.

THE WEST STORMBOUND.

Heavy Rain and Snow Accompany Winds of Almost Hurricane Violence.

Denver, Col., March 31.—Winds of almost hurricane violence, accompanied by heavy rain and snow, Tuesday nearly cut off Denver from the rest of the world. Over the entire region west of Kansas City to the Pacific coast and from Santa Fe, N. M., into central Wyoming, the storm raged, harassing telegraph communication and seriously delaying traffic. Miles of telegraph poles are reported down. By noon every wire east of Denver was silent. Around Julesburg, Col., many telegraph poles were blown down in a row while the storm also took down the wires on the south central routes through Pueblo and Kansas. Both telegraph and telephone companies put gangs of repair men at work, but it will probably be many hours before communication is normal. At Limon, Col., the snow is five feet deep. Yesterday conditions were much improved.

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED.

NO GOLD IN LEBANON MINE

Such the Report of the Newark Chemist Who Examined Its "Treasures."

Newark, N. J., March 31.—How a dream of wealth came to naught is partly told in the lonely vigils being kept by two Newark detectives over a barrel of yellow mud in an out of the way building here. Charles Albert Couch owns the doubtful treasure, which comes from his farm near Lebanon, N. H.

A few weeks ago Couch, explored trenches on his farm, came across a yellowish material embedded in the mud, that looked to him like gold. He called in a close personal friend, Ernest Townes of Springfield, Mass. Together they agreed that it was "liquid gold." They dug up a barrelful of the "stuff" and brought it to Newark for analysis.

The chemist, skeptical from the first, made the examination and reported promptly that the mud was of no value except as soil for the garden. Couch, however, is still confident that it is gold, and Townes, who had taken out $5,000 worth of stock in the mine site, hopes it is gold.

The two are now in New York on a still hunt for a chemist, who will bear out their opinion, while the special officers are keeping watch and ward to see that no thief enters to upset the plans and cart off the possible fortune.

In his affidavit Rogers declared that the bulk of the estate was invested in stocks and bonds exempt from taxation, on the personal rolls, and that the liabilities exceeded the amount of taxable securities the estate held.

KLEIN GOES TO PRISON.

Former Councilman Under 3½-Year Sentence for Pittsburgh Graft.

Pittsburg, March 31.—Captain John Klein, former city councilman, member of the "big six" and the man who two weeks ago brought about the latest graft exposure, went to the Western penitentiary early yesterday. Klein, unless he is pardoned, which is not at all unlikely, will serve three and a half years. His voluntary trip to the penitentiary, accompanied only by two county detectives, is taken to mean that the district attorney and grand jury have gained all the information the man is able to furnish. A presentment from the grand jury is expected some time to-day. The presentment will, in all likelihood, cover the testimony given before the grand jury Tuesday by Charles Steuwer, former select councilman, and members of the "big six."

HOW TO TELL THE AGE OF A HORSE

It is often important to be able to tell the age of a horse with reasonable accuracy, and we can do so more plainly by the aid of the teeth than by any other way.

At first the jaw is small to accommodate the milk teeth; the jaws soon become larger to take in the permanent ones. The front teeth, or nippers, are usually studied with more success to note the changes in the age of the horse, and between the second and third months up to the age of eight years, and fairly so up to eighteen, by the plan or form of the teeth.

When two weeks old, the central nippers are full grown; in five or six weeks another incisor will appear on either side of the two first; in two months they will have reached their natural size, and between the second and third months the second will have overtaken the first. They will then begin to wear away a little. Between the sixth and ninth months another nipper begins to appear on either side of the two first, making six above and six below, and completing the colt's mouth. After which the only noticeable difference between the second and third years is a wearing away of the teeth.

The teeth are covered with a hard substance, called enamel. It covers the portion of the teeth which appears above the gum, and as time goes on is gradually worn away. A portion of this enamel is carved inward or sunk into the body of the teeth, forming a small pit. The inside and bottom of this pit becomes blackened by food and constitutes a "mark," by the gradual disappearance of which the age can be determined with great accuracy up to about eight years.

At the age of a year and a half, the mark in the central nippers will be shorter and fainter, and in the other nippers will have undergone considerable change, and all the nippers will be flat. At two years they will be more plainly marked. The central prominent teeth are growing down, and are larger than the others. The groove on the outer corner surface is the "mark" and is long, narrow, deep and black. The mark on the next two nippers is more worn out, and is wearing away on the corner nippers.

Between three and a half and four years the central nippers have attained to nearly their whole growth. The second pair will have so far displaced the temporary teeth as to appear through the gums, where the corner ones will be transmitted and at length worn down. At four years the central nippers will be fully developed, the top edge somewhat worn off and the mark shorter, wider and fainter. The next pair will be up, but they will be small, with the mark deep and extended quite across. At four and a half years or near to five, the corner nippers are shed and the permanent ones begin to appear.
